(iii) Cookies Based on Their Purpose of Use and Legal Grounds

Absolutely Necessary Cookies (Mandatory Cookies) are those that are required for the functioning of the website. Such cookies are used to provide essential services of being a part “information society” (logging-in, filling in forms, remembering of privacy settings.)

Disabling necessary cookies will cause certain sections of the website to not work properly. For the data processing activities that we carry out during the use of these cookies, we rely on the legal ground of “processing of personal data of the parties of a contract is necessary, provided that it is directly related to the establishment or performance of the contract” within the scope of Article 5 of the Law.

Functional Cookies are used for remembering personalization settings and preferences on the website or applications. These cookies are used to operate functions other than those operated by “absolutely necessary cookies.” For the data processing activities that we carry out during the use of cookies when you explicitly request the relevant information society service to record the preferences that you have made and accordingly, personalize the Website for you, we rely on the legal grounds of “processing of personal data of the parties of a contract is necessary, provided that it is directly related to the establishment or performance of the contract” and “processing of data is necessary for the legitimate interests pursued by the data controller, provided that this processing shall not violate the fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject” within the scope of Article 5 of the Law.

For the data processing activities that we carry out during the use of cookies in cases where you do not explicitly request the relevant information society service, and during the use of third-party analytics cookies we rely on your “explicit consent” within the scope of Article 5 of the Law.

Performance-Analytical Cookies These cookies permit statistical measurement by analyzing users behavior on the Site. These cookies are used to improve the Site and measuring the effect of advertisements on users is included in such use. For the data processing activities that we carry out during the use of cookies when you explicitly request the relevant information society service and during the use of first-party analytics cookies, which are used for the purposes that do not significantly affect the privacy of the users, such as obtaining general – statistical information and are statistical measurement tools, we rely on the legal grounds of “processing of personal data of the parties of a contract is necessary, provided that it is directly related to the establishment or performance of the contract” and “processing of data is necessary for the legitimate interests pursued by the data controller, provided that this processing shall not violate the fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject” within the scope of Article 5 of the Law.

For the data processing activities that we carry out during the use of cookies in cases where you do not explicitly request the relevant information society service, and during the use of third-party analytics cookies we rely on your “explicit consent” within the scope of Article 5 of the Law.

Advertising or Targeting Cookies are used to track users' online activities in order to identify their personal interests and display advertisements tailored to those interests in the online environment. For the data processing activities, we carry out during the use of these cookies, we rely on your “explicit consent” within the scope of Article 5 of the Law.

(iv) Cookies According to their Parties

First party cookies, are those that are placed directly by the Site. (<https://hitit.com/>).

Third party cookies may be placed by the website that the user has visited from or by the third party that operates the software used to support the functioning of the Site (i.e. Google Analytics or Yandex Metrics).

How can you disable Cookies?
